CITIGROUP RAISES GLOBAL RECESSION ODDS TO 50%

Citigroup analysts' warning comes in the wake of central banks around the world rushing to raise interest rates to arrest inflation

SUPPLY SHOCKS TO ADD TO ECONOMIC WOES

Recession is an "increasingly palpable risk" for the economy, the analysts said. "The global economy is flashing a number of yellow lights at present, which flow from the persistent supply shocks but also increasingly from central bank tightening and the effects of tighter financial conditions and higher inflation on the behaviour of consumers," they added

FACTORY ACTIVITY GROWTH SLOWS

- Citigroup's bleak prognosis is shared by Deutsche Bank, which also feels the global economy may be headed for a recession
- Baring the cracks in the battered global economy, factory activity indices for June released on Thursday in Japan, Britain, the euro zone and US showed a sharp decline in growth

Alumni slam NLSIU over handling of sexual abuse

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

THE National Law School of India University (NLSIU), Bengaluru, drew flak for allegedly fining two student facilitators for speaking against sexual harassment allegedly perpetrated by a faculty member of the university.

In May, NLSIU had fined the two facilitators after they had discussed details of sexual harassment that had been narrated to them by the victim, who is not a student of NLSIU. The details of the harassment had been shared over e-mail and through a private Facebook group. Following this, NLSIU had taken action against the two, despite explicit permission given to them by the victim to share details, citing a violation of the university's disciplinary rules and calling the act a "major misconduct".

The two female students, who are also facilitators appointed under the university's Code to Combat Sexual Harassment, were asked to issue a public apology for discussing the issue or pay a fine. The two refused to tender an apology and paid a fine of Rs 5,000 each to the university. The university had also removed them as facilitators for Sexual Harassment Inquiry Committee (SHARIC) following the incident.

In solidarity with the two students, 200 alumni from the university have written an open letter to the university condemning the students' punishment. "We condemn NLSIU's finding that the student facilitators are guilty of 'major misconduct'," the letter read. P5

UNPRECEDENTED FLOODING IN TECHIE TOWN OF ASSAM

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

FOUR days ago, Amal Das called up his friend Prabal in Kolkata to inform he was standing in ankle-deep floodwaters. Amal was talking from his first floor home in Silchar town, now entirely submerged. Like him, thousands are stranded as the raging river Barak has submerged not just this entire town in southern Assam's Cachar district but the whole river valley.

Silchar is incommunicado and without transport as 5-12 feet waves lash the streets. Locals say this is unprecedented. Pregnant women and children are the worst sufferers. The town is without power and water supply. Hand pumps, wells, borewells, shops and commercial establishments are all inundated. Batteries of mobile phones have drained out and there is no Internet.

Silchar takes pride in producing hundreds of techies — many of them settled abroad. As it is now in the throes of an acute shortage of essentials, the state government began air-dropping food packets, bottles of drinking water and other essentials.

Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, who conducted an aerial survey of the district, of which Silchar is the headquarters, said the government would continue air-droppings for the marooned, apart regular relief.

Assam's Transport Minister Parimal Suklabaidya told this newspaper, "I am at chest-deep water now. Some 4,000 transformers in the district are under water. The flood has made life hell. The administration is providing relief."

Shinde has 37. Prove it on floor of House: Pawar

Sena seeks disqualification of 12 MLAs to pressure them; rebel count keeps swelling

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

WITH rebel Shiv Sena leader Eknath Shinde showcasing the support of 37 party MLAs in a group photo-op at a Guwahati hotel on Thursday, he appeared to have the numbers to escape the anti-defection law. Also seen in the group photo were nine Independent MLAs.

But NCP chief Sharad Pawar rallied around beleaguered Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray, saying numerical strength can only be proved in a trust vote on the floor of the Assembly. He blamed the BJP for engineering it, citing Shinde's claim that it had assured all support.

With the ruling Maha Vikas Aghadi coalition making hectic efforts to draw the rebels back home, Sena leader Sanjay Raut sought to dangle a carrot by claiming the party was prepared to concede their demand to step out the alliance if all of them return within 24 hours and meet Uddhav.

Parallelly, the Sena was said to have asked the Deputy Speaker to take action against those MLAs who did not attend the legislature party meeting.

For their part, the rebels said, "we do not want a change in party president; we want the unatural Aghadi alliance to go and a new a government with the BJP for various reasons. (a) We want harassment by central enforcement agencies to stop. (b) NCP is our real political opponent on the ground. Whenever fresh Assembly elections are held, NCP and Congress cannot be expected to transfer votes to Shiv Sena because they have been our traditional foes. However, when BJP was the ally, the transfer of votes was smooth. (c) BJP is a big party, so keeping it in good humour is smart politics."

TWISTS AND TURNS

- Sanjay Raut claims Sena open to considering quitting Aghadi if rebels return in 24 hours
- NCP, Cong downplay Raut's remark, vow to support Uddhav govt
- Pawar blames BJP for the crisis
- But Dy CM Ajit Pawar says he does not see any BJP role in the rebellion

But Raut said those afraid of CBI, ED or income tax raids are not hardcore Shiv Sainiks.

As for Shinde, his support group appears to be swelling. When he had initially shepharded them to Surat, his MLA count was 20. It went up to 22 by the time he flew out of Surat to Guwahati, where more joined in. On Thursday, four other Sena MLAs entered his camp, taking his score to 37. P9

No rollback of revised textbooks, says govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government clarified on Thursday that it will not roll back the revised textbooks but added that there were seven to eight mistakes during revison which will be rectified and sent to schools. Addressing a press conference, Revenue Minister R Ashok alleged that when the Congress was in power in Karnataka, the textbooks had over 150 mistakes, including grammatical errors and they did not go for reprinting but instead additional sheets were issued after corrections. "Ours has seven to eight mistakes which we'll rectify and issue in the next 10 days" he said. Some of the corrections include addition of 'Samvidhana Shilpi' title (architect of the Constitution) to Dr BR Ambedkar, more details on Puranadara Dasaru and Kanakadasaru in Class 9 textbook, change of poet's name in the Class 7 textbook and inclusion of Siddaganga Mutt's contributions to the chapter on development of Karnataka.

Interestingly, the press conference called by Minister Ashok to convey the government's decision was attended by PWD Minister C C Patil, Minister of Labour Department Shivaram Hebbar and Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj. P4

Govt to reach out to seers to eradicate untouchability

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE state government is planning to rope in religious leaders from different faiths in its efforts to eradicate untouchability which still exists in some parts of Karnataka. This initiative is jointly being taken up by the Social Welfare Department and Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR).

Under this programme, the government is planning to give additional grants as incentives to panchayats where there are no untouchability practices.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to virtually launch Vinaya Samarasya, an awareness programme to eradicate untouchability across gram panchayats in Karnataka soon. The campaign is named after Vinay, a two-year old toddler whose family was fined Rs 25,000 after he entered a temple premises in Koppal in 2021. P5

Conversion hits Rohingya camp in B'luru

YACOOB MD @ Bengaluru

WHILE religious conversions in Karnataka hit national headlines since late last year prompting the state government to bring in a new legislation following claims by Hindu organisations that a heavy influx of Christian missionaries was targeting poor Hindus, Rohingya Muslims are now being taken into the 'Protestant' Christian fold. At a camp in Byatarayanapura in Bengaluru North, about 10 families have converted to Christianity.

James Tahiyat, a young missionary in his mid-20s who studied in Don Bosco Delhi, claimed that no one was being "forced" and only the "word of God" was being preached. James's father Farook's family was the first in the Rohingya camp here to embrace Christianity a few years ago.

It is said some Christian missionaries working on health and nutrition had come across this place. James, previously a Muslim, was enrolled in a Christian school for studies and he later embraced Christianity. He completed his masters in religious studies. The family from Myanmar that runs a scrap business is now preaching their new religion to fellow Rohingyas who still follow Islam. P4

BBMP chief pats PSI for mobile toilets

PRAVEEN KUMAR
@ Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath met police sub inspector Shanthappa Jademmanavar, attached to the Central Division, at his office on Wednesday evening, who had opened 10 mobile toilets on June 15, and thanked him for his service.

Girinath also directed his staff to conduct a spot visit and submit a report on how the public toilets can be maintained by the BBMP.

The PSI had started an online campaign to build public toilets for those waiting for buses at the Goraguntepalya junction on the Bengaluru-Tumakuru Highway near Taj Vivanta. With no response from either the civic agency or the elected representative after 100 days, he opened the mobile toilets himself.

He also requested Girinath to ensure that the toilets set up by him are also maintained as it was getting tiresome for him to concentrate on his policy duty. Even state Home Minister Araga Jnanendra called the PSI to his office and encouraged him to keep up the good work.

"When I got a call from the BBMP commissioner's office, I was apprehensive that I would be pulled up for doing their (BBMP's) work. But the commissioner lauded my efforts and sought more details on the public toilets," Jademmanavar told TNIE.

He explained that it was difficult to keep the public toilets functioning without the civic agency's help. "There is another public toilet at the junction which is unused and has been locked for quite some time. If that becomes functional, there will be more toilets," he added.

PM leaves city, tar leaves roads

BBMP says roads may have been damaged due to non-curing during rain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE road patches that were repaired ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Bengaluru have been damaged within a week. Local residents blamed the shoddy work by authorities that has unravelled soon after the PM left.

The BBMP, however, maintained that the roads might have lost its shape due to non-curing during rain. CM Basavaraj Bommai has instructed BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath to conduct an inquiry into the work and take appropriate action.

According to S Sudarshan, general secretary, KHB Nagarikara Kshemabivridhi Sangha, the BBMP fixed bad roads in Komaghatta in Kengeri surroundings, on June 15, and also repaired a big stretch at Sir M Visvesvaraya Road leading to Maruthi Nagar. In a week, the patch has been exposed, he said, adding that the patched tar has been removed, and a wet mix filled instead.

"The crores of money the BBMP has spent on works during PM's visit is likely to go down the drain in a few weeks after rain," he said.

Ravindra, BBMP Special Commissioner, projects, had said that Rs 23.5 crores were spent on fixing roads, drains, street lights and marking of white line on newly tarred roads in Komaghatta and Hebbal. The RWA's in and around Kengeri said that the works were done during rains and in hurry. Special Commissioner Ramprasat Manohar maintained that Palike's works were done with transparency. "The damage in a few places has come to our notice. As it was raining and there was no proper curing, the patch work may have peeled off. We will ask the contractors concerned to fix it again," Manohar said.

Taking note of this, CM Basavaraj Bommai has instructed BBMP Commissioner to conduct an inquiry into the shoddy work and take appropriate action against those responsible for it.

No construction on unused tanks

The BBMP has 201 lakes under its jurisdiction, of which 35 have some encroachment issues while nine lakes have become 'unused tanks'. The Palike maintained no Layouts or construction will come up in these disused tanks, and the Palike will instead develop tree parks.

Post Covid, BMTC yet to restart bus service from KSR station

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WITH the pandemic declining, nearly 94 per cent of train operations have been restored in Bengaluru Railway Division, and almost 80 per cent of the pre-Covid footfall, averaging 1.25 lakh a day, is being recorded at KSR Bengaluru station now. Strangely, 300 bus trips that were run daily by BMTC from the railway station premises are yet to restart, putting passengers to much inconvenience.

BMTC officials had, at a recent meeting with Railway officials, expressed their keenness to restart buses from the main entrance. A top BMTC official said, "Railways gave us an in-principle nod to go ahead, but have not facilitated the process. Space needs to be earmarked to station buses, as well as for passengers to wait. Our one-way trips from KSR Station to all parts of the city proved very convenient for the public."

Asked about it, a railway official said that no official communication had been sent by BMTC on restarting operations. A BMTC official countered it, saying there was no need for such a formal communication. A source pondered if the powerful taxi lobby could be behind the delay in restarting bus services from KSR Station.

While the main entry to KSR Station is bursting at its seams with public and vehicles, the third entry, adjacent to it on Gubbi Thotadappa Road (Station Road) is ignored by the public. It was inaugurated on June 29, 2019, and a ticket counter was set up, with the intention of decongesting the main entrance. It offers direct access to Platform One. Students from the Railway Training Institute were spotted playing cricket here.

Ajay Singh, Chief Public Relations Officer, South Western Railway Zone, said, "Patronage of this entry did not pick up as it was launched before Covid, and passenger trains were suspended. This led to discontinuation of bus services. Two escalators connecting the FOB from Platform One to the third entry are being installed for passenger convenience." A senior BMTC official said the poor patronage did not merit running of buses from here.

The third entry remains largely unused and even doubles as sports ground

Bengaluru needs 400 wards: Janaagraha head

Wards are the fourth tier of governance, responsible for basic needs like water, electricity, roads, garbage and sewage management. In mega cities like Bengaluru, due to the population explosion, wards got bigger. In my opinion, Bengaluru needs 400 wards, not 243, for more decentralised governance. When a ward is smaller in terms of geographic area and population, it allows for increased citizen participation in local governance via ward committees. I welcome the decision to not expand the city further but redraw ward boundaries particularly in outer areas. Unless BBMP also appoints engineers and health inspectors for each of the 243 wards, more wards will only mean more corporators but not necessarily better governance.

PETER VIDAL

24th June : Capricornian sensibilities lend a stable dimension to the heavens. Actually, Capricorn is one of my favourite signs and what I love about my Capricornian friends is their calm, cool caution. I know that they sometimes blow up but, in my experience, they're usually ready to kiss and make up - if you treat them right, that is!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You should now be set free from the tensions that have been weighing you down. If you are still feeling slightly hemmed in, friends and colleagues may show you the way to enjoy yourself, but you must do your bit to persuade other people that you know what you're doing.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Entrepreneurial types, professional people and ambitious aspirants are on the upward phase of a cycle. Quite simply, you, or someone close, will soon be the beneficiary of a healthy windfall or an advance at work. Whatever you do now, you need to pay attention to loved ones' interests.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You seem to be avoiding trouble - and good for you. If you can side-step angry or demanding people, then so much the better. But I don't think you'll gain anything from burying your head in the sand, ostrich-style. If you face up to secret fears, they may actually go away!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
A fog of uncertainty is refusing to clear up. A mystery may continue in the background, but there is almost a nil chance that you, or anyone, will truly understand what is going on. If you're under the weather, one cause may be emotional or nervous strain.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Astrology is seldom to do with luck, pure and simple. Right now, though, there seems to be good-fortune for the asking, but you know better than anyone that good fortune is what you make it. Tension at home should be in the past and complications at work should have eased.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's a fine time for a spot of extravagance, particularly if partners have been holding you back lately. Family decisions and domestic plans are likely to work only if they concern short-term and day-to-day affairs. Long-range plans may be fun to formulate, but are unlikely to come into effect.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The general trend is still quite sober but you may, if you wish, take some time off to enjoy yourself. Serious discussions, meetings, interviews and even unwelcome chance encounters may point you in the right direction and the chances of uncovering the truth are good.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Monetary influences combine with domestic, and you may go out and spend on home essentials but, for those of you in the property market or otherwise wielding large amounts of money, the signs are good and getting better. Why don't you check out travel options? You deserve a change of scene.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's a complicated moment, that's for sure. Communication is the key, but co-operation may be hard to achieve. Some of you will be called away on a short journey. All of you will be faced with information to absorb and decisions to take. You'd better get on with it!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It may seem as if, having dramatically changed your mind on many occasions, you now have decided to let fate take its course. That's the long-term consideration. As far as today is concerned it's money which looms large, especially for domestic commitments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You should be in the driving seat today. You may be able to take the initiative and compensate for a few recent blunders. An argumentative mood may be dealt with nicely if you are the very essence of charm. Pay a little more attention to domestic grumbles - before they become insoluble.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may be rather discreet, and a good thing too. It could be best to keep your own counsel. At home you will be inclined to do things quietly and will not take kindly to interfering busybodies. People who think they have a right to tell you what to do should think again.

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

WITH new sub-lineages of Omicron BA.3, BA.4 and BA.5 reported in Bengaluru on Wednesday, the health department has enhanced surveillance. Health commissioner D Randeep said they have intensified targeted testing of ILI/SARI cases, especially among high-risk groups and those with co-morbid conditions. Primary and secondary contacts of cluster cases, and all positive cases will be tested, he said.

Positivity rate in Bengaluru touched 4 per cent on Wednesday, with 626 cases from Bengaluru among the 676 cases reported. While 475 cases (75.87 per cent) reported in Bengaluru are in the 20 to 60 age group, 68 cases (10.86%) are among those above 60 years of age, while 83 cases (13.25%) are in the 0 to 18 age group.

Despite Bengaluru having the country's third highest number of active cases (4,665) after Mumbai and Delhi, people here are still reluctant to take the third dose. Among those in the 18 to 59 age group who are double vaccinated, only 3.19 per cent have taken the precautionary dose, while only 35.41 per cent in the 60-plus age group have got the third dose. Overall, among 91.7 lakh people aged above 18 years, 98 per cent are vaccinated with the first dose, 96 per cent with the second dose and only 8.67 per cent with the third dose.

Among high priority groups like healthcare workers, only 40.35 per cent are vaccinated with the precautionary dose, and only 26.87 per cent of frontline workers have got the third jab.

Health officials said they will strictly adhere to recommendations made by the Covid-19 Technical Advisory committee regarding testing targets, implement mask rule and take up innovative campaigns to accelerate precautionary dose vaccination.

Lokayukta will now help needy with legal aid, get Covid-19 relief

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

AN initiative of the Karnataka Lokayukta and Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA) will offer legal assistance to a resident of Mandya district to file a writ petition before the Karnataka High Court, and come to the rescue of families of the Covid dead, who have been deprived of relief offered by the Central government.

The Lokayukta, will now offer legal assistance to the needy. Upa Lokayukta Justice K N Phaneendra took up an initiative through KSLSA to create legal awareness among the public on the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, functioning of Lokayukta and also to assist the public in redressal of grievances.

During his first meeting with the district administration in Mandya recently, Justice Phaneendra noticed that a family was deprived of compensation for death of a member due to Covid-19. Relief was denied as the government modified the guidelines, though similar families had been given compensation prior to modification. "If there is dereliction of duty or maladministration, we can address them. But this is a different case. After receiving a complaint, I came to know of the change in guidelines for denial of compensation. I suggested that the District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) give legal assistance to people to file writ petitions before the court to set right the discrimination. If there are genuine grievances which require legal assistance, we can extend it through KSLSA," said Justice Phaneendra, sharing justice should be taken to the doorstep of needy.

Following directives of HC, Justice B Veerappa, who is also Executive Chairman of KSLSA, a circular was issued, directing all member-secretaries of DLSA and Taluk Legal Services Committees to coordinate with officers of the Lokayukta to create awareness about the Karnataka Lokayukta Act. They will coordinate with Lokayukta officers to assist in redressal of public grievances.

Fin firm staff duped by social media friend of ₹35 lakh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 45-year-old employee of a finance company was conned by a woman who befriended him on social media.

The accused, Nancy William, befriended him after several video calls and assured him that she will come to India to start a jewellery business. Trusting her, he invested Rs 35 lakh. He realised that he was cheated only after she deleted her profile.

A senior police officer said based on a complaint by Johnny (name changed), a case has been registered at the CEN (East) police station.

"He had received a friend request on social media a few months ago and they shared contact numbers to make video calls. She promised that she will come to India to start a jewellery business and make him a partner. He believed her and transferred the money to five of her bank accounts between April and May. A week ago, she stopped attending his phone calls. He then found that her social media account was deleted," the officer said.

Johnny shared the bank account and transaction details with the investigation officer and the police are verifying them. A team has been formed to probe the case.

Rare neuro disorder under govt scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEALTH Commissioner, BBMP, D Randeep said his department will explore possibilities of bringing Huntington's Disease (HD) — a rare neuropsychiatric genetic disorder — under the ambit of Arogya Karnataka, or a scheme under planning for the poor, to support them with treatment.

The department, in association with HD Society of India, organised illumination of Arogya Soudha as part of the global campaign "lightitup4HD#" to show solidarity with patients and caregivers fighting the disease, and to create awareness, on Thursday evening.

Randeep said there is a need for a multi-sectoral approach and support from various departments, Nimhans, NGOs, and CSR funds by corporates to help those suffering from HD.

An illuminated Arogya Soudha as part of global campaign "lightitup4HD#" | EXPRESS

Dr Nikhil Ratna, vice-chairman of HD Society of India, explained, "HD is estimated to affect 5-10 persons in every one lakh population in India. Records from Nimhans alone show it has affected more than 300 families, of which 137 are from Karnataka. HD causes gradual malfunction or death of neurons (nerve cells) in the brain. This results in jerky movements and behavioral problems, including suicidal tendencies, loss of memory and skills. Death often happens due to suicide, bleeding in the brain due to fall, food slipping into the windpipe etc. There is no cure for the disease but symptomatic treatment, physiotherapy and speech therapy to improve the quality of life."

Rat chews car wires, man threatens woman

Bengaluru: The RT Nagar police have registered a case against the resident of an apartment on charges of issuing a life threat and demanding Rs 5 lakh from the president of the residents' association, holding her responsible for rats biting the wires of his SUV. Police said Nirupama, who lives in Ganganagar, filed a case against Lakshminarayana, who had parked his SUV on the apartment premises. But after finding that the wires were chewed, he blamed the association for not maintaining the premise properly and throwing garbage that attracted the rats. A week ago, he stopped her car in front of the gate and tried to create a ruckus demanding money. He allegedly threatened her with dire consequences. Based on the complaint by the woman, an FIR has been registered. ENS

SIDDU SLAMS KATTI OVER N K'TAKA STATE DEMAND

'Dividing state is like betraying mother, motherland, mother tongue'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A day after Food and Civil Supplies Minister Umesh Katti once again raised the issue of separate statehood for North Karnataka, former chief minister and Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Thursday criticised the former saying "to even think of dividing the state was equivalent to betraying mother, motherland and mother tongue."

Katti, a vocal proponent of separate statehood for North Karnataka, on Wednesday said that Karnataka will be divided into two after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. He went on to add that 50 new states will take shape in the country.

Katti, who hails from the border district of Belagavi, had even claimed that Maharashtra will be split into three states and Uttar Pradesh into four. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi himself will take an initiative on this issue," he had said.

"Many Kannadigas had sacrificed everything to realise a unified Karnataka. To even think of dividing our state is equivalent to betraying mother, motherland and mother tongue.

Minister Umesh Katti has revealed that the discussions are being held at Prime Minister @narendramodi's level to divide Karnataka. This is a very dangerous development," Siddaramaiah tweeted.

Siddaramaiah also sought a clarification from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on the issue. "@PMOIndia @CMofKarnataka @BSBommai should issue clarification about this. This is not the first time Minister Umesh Katti has made such statements," the former CM said.

The Badami MLA further held the BJP responsible "for the outcome of inflammatory statements made by Katti from the border areas of Belagavi".

Justifying his statement, Katti had said Bengaluru was already congested with no proper water supply and traffic was a big problem in the IT city. "It takes at least one hour to travel 10-km distance there. It takes one and half hours for me to reach Vidhana Soudha from my house located in Bengaluru city. I can reach Vidhana soudha earlier by walking instead of travelling in a vehicle," he had claimed.

Katti had said it was impossible for new IT/BT companies to establish their base in Bengaluru henceforth. "A large number of youth from North Karnataka worked in these companies in Bengaluru. It is high time for IT companies to think beyond Bengaluru and set up their units in North Karnataka, which has a huge potential," he had elaborated.

CM distances himself from Katti's statement

BENGALURU: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday disowned the statement of his cabinet colleague Umesh Katti, who stoked a controversy by claiming that 50 new states, including North Karnataka, will come up after 2024 Lok Sabha polls. "There is no thinking or proposal at the government level at all on a separate state of North Karnataka," Bommai told reporters in New Delhi. "This is not the first time Umesh Katti has spoken about it. He has been saying it for many years. He should himself reply to this question", he shot back to a query posed by reporters.

Bommai shuts down all talk of cabinet expansion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday put a lid on speculation about his two-day trip to the national capital, clarifying that he had no plans to meet any top leaders of the party or hold talks on cabinet expansion.

With the party high command busy with developments in Maharashtra, where the BJP is within sniffing distance of power, and the July 18 Presidential polls, Bommai is unlikely to get an appointment with the central leadership to discuss Karnataka developments. In fact, BJP National President J P Nadda and PM Narendra Modi had visited the state in quick succession recently. "It is not an occasion to discuss this, as the party high command is busy with Presidential polls. I have come to Delhi on the instructions of the party brass, as have all party chief ministers, to be present when our Presidential candidate files nomination papers," he told reporters in Delhi.

"Reports of ministry expansion in the media is usual whenever I visit Delhi. I have not met the party top brass and will let you know when it happens," he said with some sarcasm.

Bommai will sign the nomination papers of NDA Presidential candidate Droupadi Murmu as one of the proposers. Following the party's instructions, Transport Minister B Sriramulu and former minister Raju Gowda, both from the ST community, and PWD minister Govind Karjol, from the SC community, will join Bommai in New Delhi during the filing of papers. It is to send out a message that the BJP stands by SC/ST communities, and chose an ST woman as its presidential candidate.

After nomination papers are filed around 11am Friday, Bommai will return to Bengaluru around 4.30pm. But between these events, Bommai is likely to meet some Union ministers, including those from the state. He may also get a chance to meet the high command, as his appointment with Nadda was fixed earlier, to discuss certain issues in confidence, sources said.

BJP targets Cong over rubber-stamp prez comment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Congress and many of its allies have said that the country should not have a rubber-stamp president indirectly taking a dig at the BJP, the saffron party hit back at the Grand Old Party in a series of tweets. The BJP said that the Congress leaders were mere rubber-stamps of the Nehru-Gandhi family.

In a series of tweets, the Karnataka BJP wondered why the Congress could not tolerate the rise of a tribal woman to the highest position.The Congress did not give priority to women, the BJP claimed. BJP on the other hand is seriously committed to the cause of women empowerment and that's the reason the party has fielded tribal leader Droupadi Murmu as the presidential candidate, it said.

The BJP tweets said, "Abdul Kalam, Ramnath Kovind and Draupadi Murmu were all NDA's choices. The Congress has not been able to even think of fielding such stalwarts. It is inexcusable that the Congress has termed the election of NDA's presidential candidate Droupadi Murmu as a rubber stamp," the party said.

Ex-CM bats for strong anti-defection law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

AMID the ongoing political crisis in Maharashtra, Leader of Opposition in the Karnataka Assembly Siddaramaiah on Thursday stressed the need for a strong anti-defection law "to save democracy". Addressing the media here, the former chief minister lashed out at the BJP for indulging in 'Operation Kamala' to lure Opposition legislators to topple governments.

"The BJP managed to come to power using Operation Lotus in Karnataka and in several other states across the country. The party uses corruption money to purchase MLAs that are against democracy," he said. The Badami MLA also hit out at the Union Government for misusing Central agencies, including the Enforcement Directorate, to scare the Opposition legislators in Maharashtra.

CLP leader Siddaramaiah speaks at a Congress meeting in Mysuru on Thursday | UDAYASHANKAR S

"Operation Lotus was started by BJP and by BS Yediyurappa as they did not get the absolute majority to form the government here," he said, advocating for a stringent anti-defection law that would bar MLAs switching sides from contesting polls for 10 years. On BJP announcing the name of former Jharkhand Governor Droupadi Murmu as the NDA's presidential pick, Siddaramaiah said it was not social justice. "It is nothing special as she had already served as BJP district president, MLA, and Governor in the past. If they are truly committed to social justice, they should make her the RSS chief in place of Mohan Bhagwat," Siddaramaiah said.

Referring to PM Modi's Karnataka visit, Siddaramaiah said, "The BJP leaders here know that Modi would not do anything good to Karnataka.... hence they did not submit any memorandums to the PM." "The only solace is that a few roads in Bengaluru got a fresh coat of tar," he quipped.

Will resign as MLA, join Cong: Expelled JDS leader

ENS @ Tumakuru

JDS MLA from Gubbi, S R Srinivas, here on Thursday said that he was not perturbed by his expulsion from the party and said that he would resign as MLA in December and join the Congress ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections.

Addressing the media a day after he was expelled from JDS for cross-voting in the recent Rajya Sabha elections, Srinivas reiterated that he has distanced himself from the party. It may be noted here that he has been on good terms with both Karnataka Congress president DK Shivakumar and Leader of Opposition in the Assembly Siddaramaiah for several months now and had even challenged JDS leader and former CM HD Kumaraswamy to contest against him in the 2023 polls.

JDS, on its part, has already decided to field BS Nagaraju, also a Vokkaliga, from Gubbli. Meanwhile, JDS has decided to petition the Speaker soon seeking the disqualification of Srinivas and Kolar MLA K Srinivasa Gowda under the anti-defection law.

'Miffed' Congress leader Seetharam calls for meeting of supporters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FORMER minister MR Seetharam, who was miffed over being denied Congress ticket to contest the recent MLC polls, has called for a meeting of his supporters, including Balija community leaders, at Palace Grounds here on Friday.

Several Congress leaders, including former MLCs Ramesh Babu and MD Lakshminarayan, are expected to take part in the meeting.

After eliciting a response from his supporters, Seetharam is likely to take a call as to whether to remain in the Congress or quit.

There are murmurs in political corridors that the BJP is trying to get Seetharam on board and field him from Chikkaballapura in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. Seetharam hails from the Balija community and the constituency has a considerable number of voters from the community.

Sitting Lok Sabha member B N Bache Gowda is likely to quit the BJP, according to sources.

Soon after Seetharam was denied ticket, the Congress tried to repair the damage by appointing his son Raksha Ramaiah as the Indian Youth Congress national general secretary. But the father-son duo did not take part in any of the party events. According to sources, the educationist-turned-politician who runs a plethora of institutions set up by his late father M S Ramaiah was in the coterie of Siddaramaiah and the latter even batted in his favour for the MLC ticket.

'1,500 Rohingyas living in Delhi, Haryana and Hyderabad have converted'

Conversion due to fear?

To a question on whether the Rohingyas are leaving Islam fearing backlash from Hindutva outfits, he said, the controversy is new, but many converted five to six years ago itself. People are choosing Christianity by understanding the religion and no one is coming due to fear of any allurement or fear, claimed the young missionary. "Most of them got converted between 2013 to 2016. About 1,500 Rohingyas living in Delhi, Haryana and Hyderabad have converted to Christianity," James said. The missionary also took this reporter inside a camp and showed a few families that have converted to Chirstianity. He also pulled out a bag filled with Old and New Testament copies of Bibles in English as well as Urdu. Every Sunday, people who have moved into the new faith assemble at one house where prayers are held. Many here cannot read or write and can only speak and for them religion is being taught in the Rohingya language.

Allegations of allurement

Karimullah, who stays some 200 meters away from the camp where James and his father live, said in his camp about 15 families are living and attempts are being made to convert his children too but he did not yield. "Some missionaries asked me to hand over my elder son to them saying they will take care of him and give him education. But I was reluctant. I told them he is going to a government school here and during the later part of the day he helps him in his scrap business." said Kariumullah, a Rohingya Muslim.

He alleged that since he did not yield to pressure from missioneries, he and members from his camp were being targeted and a false theft case was filed against him.

All India Shramik Swaraj Kendra, the organisation which is working on migrants and refugees in the state has enumerated 130 families scattered in three different places in Bengaluru namely Hegde Nagar, Byatarayanapura-Dasarahalli and Bellahalli and all have been provided with UN refugee cards. "The card is issued by the UN office in Delhi and it has to be renewed yearly. The Rohingyas only have 'right to life' which also covers health and education. The refugees are constantly monitored. With regard to the anti-conversion bill passed by the Karnataka government, if a complaint is registered against any new conversion, the law will be applicable to it as it is a crime. If Rohingyas are accused of religious conversion, then they will be sent to a detention centre. Since they escaped killings in their country Myanmar, they can be deported once the situation eases," said R Kaleemullah, Vice President, All India Shramik Swaraj Kendra.

Former Advocate General, Ashok Haranahalli said that the law of the land is for everyone irrespective of their citizenship.

Even migrants and others have to abide by the rules. To a question whether the same applies on Rohingyas in matters of religious conversion, especially after the government passing anti-conversion law, he said it does apply.

AIADMK functionaries to meet on July 11 to take decision on electing Palaniswami as single leader

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

The AIADMK general council meeting held in Chennai on Thursday, after days of sparring between Edappadi K Palaniswami and O Pannerselvam and late-night legal drama, rejected all 23 resolutions placed before it and decided to meet again on July 11 to consider electing Palaniswami as the single leader of the party along with other proposals.

The Executive and General Council meeting telecast live saw Palaniswami emerge as the popular leader with a crown, a sword and a scepter presented to him and his adversary and party coordinator O Panneerselvam being heckled with rude slogans.

The GC meeting, held after a Madras HC bench gave it a go-ahead with a caveat that the council must not adopt any resolution other than the 23 already approved by the party, was over in just 34 minutes. R Vaithilingam, a supporter of Panneerselvam, dubbed the meeting as illegal half-an-hour drama.

Meanwhile, Panneerselvam left for New Delhi by a night flight. At the airport, Panneerselvam said he was going to the national capital to be present when NDA's presidential candidate Draupadi Murmu files her nomination. However, sources said Panneerselvam may consult legal experts and move the Election Commission over the developments on Thursday.

Thamizhmagan Hussain, who was promoted as presidium chairman of the party during the GC meeting, announced the next date of meeting of the GC while party's deputy coordinator KP Munusamy said the resolution of bringing in a single leadership for the party would be adopted in that meeting.

Earlier, Panneerselvam, his supporters R Vaithilingam, and others left the meeting venue halfway. As he was leaving, plastic water bottle and papers were thrown at Panneerselvam.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hassan

VILLAGERS were in panic after mild tremors were felt in parts of Holenarasipur and Arkalgud taluks of Hassan district in the early hours of Thursday.

Big whales behind conspiracy against CM: Saritha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

CONTROVERSIAL bizwoman Saritha S Nair on Thursday alleged that the allegations raised by gold smuggling accused Swapna Suresh against Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan was part of a big conspiracy which could have been hatched with the help of one or two political parties.

Addressing the media after giving her confession statement before the Chief Judicial Magistrate Court under CrPC 164, Saritha said big whales were behind the conspiracy against the CM and P C George was just a player in that. Saritha alleged that the conspiracy was hatched in the office of Crime Nandakumar to trap the CM and attempts were made to drag her into the plot.

"There is a big team with international branches which is behind the conspiracy. They are involved in gold smuggling," she said.

Saritha added that it was P C George who had contacted her. "Swapna, P S Sarith and Crime Nandakumar were part of it. They wanted me to meet them at Nandakumar's office. I had bad experiences from Nandakumar in the past and hence decided not to go there," she said.

Saritha said that, when she was dragged into the controversy, she conducted an investigation on her own and the findings and evidence she had come across have been shared with the special police team as well as the court. Saritha said that Swapna raised the allegation against the CM as she had no other options.

"Those who had invested money would want it back. She had two options. Either to pay them back or raise allegations against the CM," Saritha added.

CHEQUE BOUNCE CASES

Magistrates must apply their mind: K'taka HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed magistrates to "apply their mind" and consider only applications under Section 143A of the Negotiable Instruments Act for interim compensation to complainants in cheque bounce cases, if the accused adopts delay tactics like evading proceedings by seeking adjournments.

Quashing an order passed by a magistrate in the city to pay interim compensation of 10 per cent (Rs 55 lakh) on the total amount of the cheque of Rs 5.5 crore, which was dishonoured for want of funds, Justice M Nagaprasanna also directed the magistrates to exercise discretion by recording the reasons in writing and specify the compensation in figure, as it varies from 1 to 20 per cent, only after hearing the accused. The court remitted back the matter to the magistrate to pass appropriate orders.

The petition was filed by V Krishnamurthy, proprietor of Raghvenk Industries at Mettupalyam in Coimbatore, questioning the order passed by a magistrate ordering that he pay interim compensation to the complainant -- Diary Classic Ice Creams Pvt Ltd in city.

Noting that the court is flooded with litigations seeking grant of compensation under Section 143 A of the Act, the court observed that the mandate of the statute is that it should not exceed 20 per cent. In cases where magistrates proceed to grant compensation, they have to bear in mind the amount involved in the instrument, as certain transactions would run into several crores of rupees and the accused may have formidable defence against the complainant.

"In cases where magistrates are to exercise discretion, it should become two-fold. In a given case, if the accused is cooperating with the trial without seeking any unnecessary adjournments, not absenting himself or his counsel... the magistrate will have to apply his mind, exercise his discretion as to whether such applications should be entertained at all. In cases where there is no cooperation, the court may proceed to consider the application," the court said.

'Untouchability a reality in many parts of K'taka'

Social Welfare Minister Kota Shrinivas Poojari said the government wants to make Karnataka free of untouchability practices. "This is why they have decided to launch the campaign at panchayat level in villages. There are over 6,000 gram panchayats in Karnataka. We want every panchayat to allow everyone into all temples, drink water from the same water source and also allow all communities in the villages to use one graveyard and live like one family," he said.

"To make the awareness campaign more effective, we are planning to reach out to seers from various communities. The seers can influence their followers in a more effective way," the minister said.

Government sources said untouchability is a reality in many parts of the state. There are places where people from certain castes are not allowed to take part in fairs or even enter temples. Sometimes even officials or police cannot do anything.

It may be recalled that in September 2021, a Dalit family was fined Rs 25,000 after their two-year-old toddler Vinay entered a temple premises at Miyapur village in Kushtagi taluk in Koppal in North Karnataka. This was widely criticised by people, political parties and even organisations. It was then that the State government decided to launch this initiative and named it after the toddler — Vinaya Samarasya. Government has already announced to take care of Vinay's education. "We will support him and provide him free education," the minister said.

The letter had also gone viral on Twitter with one of the alumni from the university telling TNIE that they disapproved the way the university was handling the issue. "A major reason behind the open letter is that we would like the university to answer our questions. We disagree with the secretive manner in which action has been taken against the students," Mukta Joshi told TNIE. While there was no response from the university authorities despite multiple attempts to reach them, Joshi said the students had written an appeal to the university's executive council over the issue earlier this week.

MORE WARNINGS ON KERALA'S DEBT TRAP

Kerala's mounting public debt has been an engaging topic for planners and economists for the last few years. Last week, economists of the RBI flagged the lurking dangers if the state government does not initiate measures—both short- and medium-term—to address the elephant in the room. Citing the financial crisis in Sri Lanka, a team of economists led by deputy governor Michael Debabrata Patra named Kerala, Bihar, Punjab, Rajasthan and West Bengal as 'highly stressed' states. Along with Rajasthan and West Bengal, Kerala is projected to surpass 15th finance commission targets for debt and fiscal deficit this fiscal. The Covid-hit tourism industry and a sharp decline in remittances from abroad are among the factors that led to the Sri Lankan crisis. Tourism and remittances are key contributors to Kerala's economy too. Another disturbing trend the RBI noted is the declining tax and non-tax revenue. Kerala features on the list of 10 states that have recorded a decline in tax revenue. The state is also in the group of four that spend over 90% of the earnings on revenue expenditure and in the group of five that saw the steepest rise in subsidies in the last three years.

A recent decision of the government to withdraw monetary support to Kerala Social Security Pension Limited (KSSP) is a classic example of how shortsighted decisions can boomerang. The KSSP, formed in June 2018 as a government-owned company, raises funds through borrowings to pay ₹1,600 each every month as social security pension to 52.27 lakh beneficiaries. But the means to repay these borrowings were not defined properly and with the government now withdrawing as a guarantor, the future of the firm and the pension scheme are hanging in the balance. The RBI team estimates that Kerala's debt-to-GSDP ratio will be 38.2% in 2026–27. One way to tide over the crisis is to cut down all unwanted revenue expenditure. The other is to explore ways to generate more revenue, for which the state will have to think out of the box. Steps to stablilise debt and bring the debt-to-GSDP ratio below 30% should be the priority.

LEARNING LANGUAGES ON THE BORDER

Himveers are not merely border patrollers up in the Himalayas. They are India's soldier-communicators. Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) personnel, called Himveers, patrol the Line of Actual Control between India and China. They are now being trained in Mandarin to communicate better with the People's Liberation Army (PLA) soldiers during patrols. Six thousand Himveers have completed the training to date. Eventually, the entire force, nearly 90,000 strong, will understand basic Mandarin. The government approved the plan to avoid tensions arising from a lack of proper communication between the border patrols. The border is anyway not fully demarcated, and trespassing is routine. If not handled sensitively, it can lead to misunderstandings. Hundreds of transgressions take place every year. Border stand-offs, first in Doklam and now in Ladakh, exacerbate the situation.

Such language training is imperative. Patrolling parties do have formal communication fora, like flag meetings, but unexpected events can test the maturity of the soldiers in the field. Miscommunication can spoil the atmosphere. Today, modern communication technologies are transforming the character of military activities, from war to border patrol. The transformation is impacting the shape of formal and non-formal violence even as it makes the job of tactical assessments in inaccessible border areas easier. However, it all sometimes boils down to what one soldier says to the other as both face each other, intent on defending their border at all costs. The entire system, technology, tactics, or the fate of countries can depend on how soldiers conduct themselves when they stand barely yards apart at an unmarked border. A soldier cannot always expect to take an interpreter along. The soldier should know the 'enemy' language for elementary conversations. The India-Pakistan border is easier to negotiate because of a commonly understood language, but it is not so in the east. The personnel deployed there must not only know Chinese, but also be trained in soft skills like on-the-spot negotiation and contact procedures, and be aware of the culture of the other side. The concept should be taken to the North-eastern states bordering other countries where the soldiers and paramilitary forces benefit from knowing a smattering of the local language. Language humanises.

Instead of raising the issue of the island ceded to Lanka by Indira Gandhi, our politicians should ponder over the present-day realities of the Palk Bay

KACHCHATHEEVU RETRIEVAL: WHY FLOG A DEAD HORSE?

V SURYANARAYAN

Senior Professor (Retd), Centre for South and Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

SOUMYADIP SINHA

During the recent visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Chief Minister M K Stalin raised the issue of the retrieval of the island of Kachchatheevu, ceded to Sri Lanka in 1974 by then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. To quote Stalin, "I am duty bound to remind the Prime Minister that this is a right time to retrieve Kachchatheevu to ensure the traditional fishing zone and rights of the Tamil Nadu fishing community." As was expected, the prime minister remained completely silent on the thorny issue.

This is not the first time the demand was raised. On 15 August 1991, the then Chief Minister J Jayalalithaa called upon the people of the state to take a pledge to retrieve the island, "gifted away" to Sri Lanka. I was associated with the University of Madras at that time and decided to work on the subject. I had two objectives. International agreements have a sanctity of their own and if India decides to abrogate them unilaterally, New Delhi's global image would take a nosedive. Secondly, can the interests of Tamil Nadu fishermen be protected without abrogating the two agreements of 1974 and 1976, which delimited the maritime boundaries in the Palk Strait, Gulf of Mannar and the Indian Ocean?

The first major problem that I faced was—all documents relating to the Zamindari rights of the Raja of Ramnad were taken away and kept behind the stone walls of official secrecy. It may be recalled that A B Vajpayee, then leader of Jan Sangh who characterised the gifting away of Kachchatheevu as bhoodan in Parliament, instructed Jana Krishnamurthi to file a case in the Madras High Court. Krishnamurthi could not produce any documentary evidence (because all of them were taken away by New Delhi) to prove that the island was part of India and the case was dismissed. Can the DMK/AIADMK MPs demand access to these documents under the Right to Information Act and make them public?

The island of Kachchatheevu is located in the Palk Strait, 10.5 miles south of the Delft Island and 12 miles from the nearest point in Ramanathapuram district. It does not have even a drop of drinking water. Tamil Nadu fishermen used the island to dry their nets and take rest. Today, nylon nets are used and they do not require drying. There is a church dedicated to St. Anthony, considered to be the guardian of fishermen; in April, priests from India and Sri Lanka preside over the festivals. Indian fishermen are allowed to visit the island without obtaining a visa. During the ethnic conflict, festivals were not held, but they have resumed now. The number of visiting pilgrims is determined by the Sri Lankan government.

The barren island by itself should not have become a source of conflict. What made the island lucrative were the surrounding seas full of prawns. The chank shells, pearl oysters and corals from the seabed are also rich sources of income. In the 1970s, scientists also felt that the area should be explored for oil. Historically, the island belonged to the Zamindari of Raja of Ramnad; once the Zamindari was abolished, it became a part of Madurai district. Judicial pronouncements of the Madras High Court gave further credence to its Indianness. In the famous case of Anna Kumaru Pillai, the Madras High Court held that these areas are "an integral part of His Majesty's areas and that the chank beds are part of the territories of British India". According to the Gazetteer of Ramanathapuram, published by the Tamil Nadu government, the survey number of Kachchatheevu is 1250.

After Independence, Kachchatheevu occasionally figured in Parliament. Cutting across political differences, members from Madras Presidency argued that the island belonged to India. Nehru adopted a policy of "calculated indifference". After Indira Gandhi became prime minister, a marked shift began to take place. The island was considered not Indian territory but disputed territory. Second, Sirimavo Bandaranaike was her personal friend and Indira wanted to buttress her regime in all possible ways. The result was Indira's decision to cede the island to Sri Lanka. According to S P Jagota, Director of the Legal and Treaties Division, if the principle of median line—a universally accepted practice—was adopted, the island would have fallen on the Indian side. Therefore, a "deviation" was made so that the island could be a part of Lanka. Prof. Partha Ghosh said: "Mrs Bandaranaike made a personal appeal to Indira Gandhi to come to her rescue. India Gandhi appreciated her predicament and manipulated the situation in such a way that it became a fait accompli even before the Indian delegation could react."

> In the late 1950s, Nehru wanted to transfer Berubari to East Pakistan. Bengal CM B C Roy filed an appeal in the SC and argued that if Berubari is to be given to a neighbour, a constitutional amendment was essential. The SC upheld his claim and Berubari remains a part of India. Why did the then TN CM not immediately seek judicial remedy in the case of Kachchatheevu?

M Karunanidhi was then the chief minister of Tamil Nadu. It would be worthwhile to compare the policies of B C Roy, the chief minister of West Bengal, and M Karunanidhi on the issue. In the late 1950s, Jawaharlal Nehru wanted to transfer Berubari to East Pakistan. He considered Berubari a disputed territory. B C Roy filed an appeal in the apex court that Berubari was part of India and argued that if Indian territory is to be given to a neighbouring country, a constitutional amendment was essential. The Supreme Court upheld his claim and Berubari still remains a part of India. Why did Karunanidhi not resort to judicial remedy in the case of Kachchatheevu? I interviewed S Madhavan, then law minister and asked him repeatedly why Karunanidhi did not file an appeal in the Supreme Court. There was no convincing answer.

Instead, the then CM took the issue to the Legislative Assembly and passed a resolution against the ceding of Kachchatheevu. A resolution by the Legislative Assembly on a subject pertaining to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Centre could be ignored by New Delhi. But a judicial decision is binding both on the Centre and the states. The explanation perhaps lies elsewhere. M G Ramachandran had already parted company and he was becoming more and more popular. Perhaps Karunanidhi was counting on Indira's support to remain in power. Equally important, Indira was aware of the many acts of omission and commission of the DMK leaders. Years later, Jayalalithaa filed an appeal in the Supreme Court; so also did Karunanidhi a few months later. I do not know whether the cases filed by the two politicians would ever come up for hearing.

In order to resolve the dispute, I came up with two suggestions. First, get the island of Kachchatheevu and surrounding sea on a "lease in perpetuity from Sri Lanka". In other words, Teen Bigha in reverse. In Teen Bigha, sovereignty is with India, but we have given the area to Bangladesh on lease in perpetuity. Second, request the Lankan Government to permit licensed Indian fishermen to fish in upto five nautical miles in Lankan waters. In return, permit Lankan fishermen to fish in our Exclusive Economic Zone on the same terms and conditions. There is a precedent. In the 1976 Agreement, Lankan fishermen were permitted to fish near Kanniyakumari. I was happy that my suggestions were accepted both by the DMK and the AIADMK governments.

"The Sea", as T S Eliot wrote in The Dry Salvages, "has many voices". Unfortunately, the agony and suffering of the Lankan Tamil fishermen, who have ventured into the sea after years of deprivation, is not appreciated by the TN politicians. The Tamil Nadu fishermen, on the three days that they are allowed to fish, go deep into the Lankan waters; they use bottom trawlers, which are banned by the Lankan government and play havoc with marine ecology. If the Sri Lankan government approaches the International Court, as the Philippines did against China for fishing in the South China Sea, what defence can India, especially Tamil Nadu, submit before the court? Our fame and name as a law-abiding country would suffer irreparable damage. Instead of raising the issue of Kachchatheevu, our politicians should ponder over the present-day realities of the Palk Bay.

REGULATING MISLEADING ADVERTISEMENTS

KAVYA LALCHANDANI

Legal scholar based in the UK

Consumer protection laws in India have undergone major changes in the past few years. One area that lacked specific guidance but was covered under the Act related to misleading advertisements. The Central Consumer Protection Authority subsequently came up with the Guidelines for Prevention of Misleading Advertisements and Endorsements for Misleading Advertisements, 2022.

The guidelines introduce rules for various kinds of advertising, i.e., bait advertising, free claims advertising, children-targeted advertisements and surrogate advertising. Bait advertising means enticing consumers to buy the product at a lower price. It is subject to certain conditions, like the reasonable prospect of providing the goods at that price, the seller having enough stock to fulfil the demands of the consumers, non-misleading advertisements, and availability of reasonable explanation if the seller is unable to supply the goods.

The guidelines totally prohibit the use of surrogate advertisements. They refer to any advertisement that is either prevented by law or circumvents the prohibition by law (indirect advertisements).

In the case of free advertisements, the consumer is supposed to only incur the unavoidable cost of claiming the offer as a response to the advertisement; and for collecting or delivering the goods, the cost is supposed to be nil.

With regard to advertisements targeted at children, the guidelines prohibit advertisement of such products that will harm kids in any way. It could be a product that is harmful to their health, or creates unrealistic expectations, or claims benefits that are not scientifically proven or are outright exaggerations.

However, most importantly, the guidelines insist on due diligence before the endorsement of any advertisement. Due diligence will have to be done by professionals seeking to endorse a product or service. That is, the claim should reflect the reasonable current opinion of the individual. Moreover, the individual should be sufficiently informed and aware of the product to ensure that the advertisement is not deceptive or misleading. And foreign professionals are barred from advertising such products or services that are not allowed to be promoted or endorsed by Indian professionals. The guidelines also prohibit advertisements that can develop a negative image of the body in the minds of the children. Advertisements also cannot give the impression that a product is better than the traditional food that children usually consume at home.

> The Central Consumer Protection Authority has come up with guidelines to tackle misleading ads, an area that lacked specific rules earlier. They prohibit advertisement of products that will harm children in any way. Most importantly, the guidelines insist on due diligence before the endorsement of any advertisement

The provisions related to product endorsement can be strengthened further if there is more clarity on what is "reasonable current opinion". The idea is to ensure that the meaning is not left open-ended. That way, the advertiser can easily avoid responsibility for the endorsement. Referring to the endorsers, the guidelines say they also have to declare their connection, if any, with the manufacturer or the service provider.

It equally places duties and responsibilities on the service providers, manufacturers, advertisers and the advertising agencies for substantiating and objectively justifying the claim being made through the products or services on offer.

With respect to the penalty for violation of the guidelines, it is to be derived from the Consumer Protection Act itself. It prescribes monetary penalties to the tune of ₹10 lakh for the first offence, which can go up to ₹50 lakh for subsequent offences and imprisonment of up to two years under Section 89 of the Act.

It can be seen that the law on consumer protection is developing organically and the changes will take time to come into effect. It is hoped that the changes will be swift and objective.

Warning to dynasties

If dissident leader Eknath Shinde succeeds in taking control of the Shiv Sena, it will be the first-ever incident of 'de-dynastifying' a dynastic party in the country. If it really happens, it may not only be a forerunner in Indian politics but also a warning of sorts to the slew of dynastic parties.

C G Kuriakose, Kothamangalam

Don't play victim

Shinde already has 36 MLAs in his court. I think that Uddhav Thackeray should gracefully resign because that will allow the Governor to explore other options. Instead of playing the victim and creating situations that are conducive to horse-trading, he should step down and maintain the reputation of his party.

S V Venkatakrishnan, Bengaluru

She will do well

This is with reference to the article Murmu's spiritual calling at Mt. Abu (June 23). It is wonderful that Prime Minister Narendra Modi chose Draupadi Murmu as the NDA's Presidential nominee. Although there were many Presidential aspirants, she was chosen for her capability. It is not about the fact that she is from the BJP; she is someone who is very positive-minded and will do good things.

K Nehru Patnaik, Visakhapatnam

Spark of democracy

This is with reference to Telangana students show how a protest is done (June 23). These students chose the Gandhian way of Satyagraha to avail what they deserve—better facilities. They democratically conveyed their requirements and believed those demands were not 'silly' but legitimate. After years of suppressing students' voices, the university authorities had no choice but to concede. I think that is the way to protest—with peace.

Bichu Muttathara, T'puram

Meditation in schools

This is with reference to the report Did pandemic alter behaviour of students in state? (June 23). Due to the pandemic, extra-curricular activities took a backseat, and academic achievement took precedence. This has affected both students and teachers, making them stressed and prone to depression. If schools introduce meditation as a part of the curriculum, it may actually help mitigate these problems and pave the way towards a calm mind.

G Nataraja Perumal, Tenkasi

Guruvayoor's lady mahout

This is with reference to Meet the new boss of 44 elephants (June 23). Kudos to C R Lejumol for becoming the first woman boss to manage the jumbos in Guruvayoor temple's famous elephant camp Punnathur Kotta. The overall management of captive elephants is a tough task at Punnathur Kotta. But Lejumol, who was born into a family of mahouts, won't find it hard to take care of 44 elephants.

MAHA CRISIS & GUV ROLE

What are the options before Governor if the rebel faction led by Eknath Shinde formally pulls the plug on MVA govt? Here's a look:

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN the event that rebel Shiv Sena MLA Eknath Shinde and his band of legislators, holed up in a Guwahati hotel, win the battle of wits and pull the plug on the Maha Vikas Aghadi government led by Uddhav Thackeray, Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari's role will be crucial. As things are poised, it's a just a question of when the ball lands in his court. So what are the options before the Governor? Here's a look at the various possibilities:

GUV 'KINGMAKER'

Governor's role comes into play if the rebel MLAs write to him withdrawing support to the MVA govt led by Uddhav Thackeray. The Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena faction can approach the Governor and claim the support of the BJP. Each defected MLA will have to hand in individual letters of support

Koshiyari will have to decide whether the Maharashtra Vikas Agadi (MVA) government led by Uddhav Thackeray commands the numbers to remain in power. He can ask the government to prove its majority on the floor of the Assembly

CAN THE GOVERNOR DISSOLVE THE STATE ASSEMBLY?

- Cabinet of a government with doubtful majority cannot recommend dissolution of House; Supreme Court has ruled that floor test is the best way to test majority
- The Governor can use his discretionary power and may choose not to dissolve the Assembly — even if CM Uddhav Thackeray seeks the same — if he is convinced that the council of ministers, in whose name the recommendation is made, does not enjoy the confidence of the House
- In Madhya Pradesh, then CM Kamal Nath had recommended dissolution after the defection of Jyotiraditya Scindia and two dozen-odd MLAs to BJP, but the Governor called for a floor test instead

FLOOR TEST

CONSTITUTION SAYS

Governor can summon the House under Article 175 (2) and call for a floor test for the government to prove its majority

If the Assembly is in session, then the Speaker can call for the floor test. If the Assembly is not in session, then the Governor can allow the Speaker to call for a floor test under his residuary powers under Article 163

GUV'S MANDATE

If the breakaway Shiv Sena faction writes to the Governor withdrawing support to the MVA govt, Koshyari can call for a floor test

If the MVA lost majority in the floor test and the rebel group subsequently stakes claim along with the BJP, the Governor can invite them to form govt and then ask for a floor test to prove majority

Both Governor Koshiyari and CM Uddhav have tested Covid-positive. That means neither can attend any public function until they heal

SPEAKER'S ROLE

If the event of floor test, the Speaker will have an important role to play

Maharashtra Assembly currently does not have a Speaker. Nana Patole of Congress was originally elected Speaker, but he quit after being made state Congress chief. No Speaker elected since then primarily because of Cong delay

Deputy Speaker Narhari Zirwal of NCP now comes into focus. Zirwal's role becomes crucial:

- If rebel MLAs do not resign but vote against the party whip
- Unless they resign or vote against whip, they cannot be disqualified
- In such a situation, Zirwal will decide about disqualification

KOSHIYARI VS UDDHAV

The MVA govt has had a turbulent relationship with the B S Koshyari-led Raj Bhavan: Major run-ins:

- Uddhav' Legislative Council nominations lay pending with Kodhiyari for nearly six months and the CM had to finally call the Prime Minister to resolve the issue
- In late 2020, Koshyari and Uddhav had an acerbic exchange of letters over the issue of reopening places of worship after the Covid-19 lockdown. Governor asked the Chief Minister if he had "become secular". The latter retorted that he didn't need Koshyari's certificate on Hindutva
- Another conflict was over the govt's nomination of 12 persons to the Council. The Governor sat on the list
- Tussle over election to the Assembly Speaker's post. The Thackeray Government amended rules to hold the election by voice vote rather than a secret ballot to avoid any sudden surprises. But the Governor sat on request for the date of election

AMID an appeal by an RSS affiliate to all political parties to unanimously elect Droupadi Murmu as the next President, the NDA's presidential candidate reached Delhi a day before filing her nomination papers and called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Vice-President M Venkaiah Naidu and Home Minister Amit Shah.

After meeting her, PM Modi tweeted that Murmu's candidature had been appreciated across the country by all sections of society. "Met Droupadi Murmu ji. Her presidential nomination has been appreciated across India by all sections of society. Her understanding of grassroots problems and vision for India's development is outstanding," he said.

Naidu and Shah also extended their best wishes to Murmu. "The tribal society is feeling very proud with the announcement of her name. I am sure her administrative and public service experience will benefit the country," Shah tweeted.

Murmu is expected to file her nomination papers on Friday with Modi likely to be the first proposer in her nomination. With the BJD supporting her, Murmu is expected to get elected comfortably to become India's first tribal woman to become the President.

Earlier, the Akhil Bharatiya Vanvasi Kalyan Ashram in a statement appealed that Murmu's candidature was "historic" and she should be elected unanimously, showing genuine concern for all-round development of marginalised tribal communities in the country.

Jayant Sinha says party comes before family

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BJP MP and former Union minister Jayant Sinha is in no dilemma when it comes to deciding who he will vote for in the presidential election. The son of Opposition's presidential nominee Yashwant Sinha, Jayant Sinha has made it clear that his loyalty towards the party came first and he would discharge his duty as a BJP MP rather than according priority to being a son to his father.

Yashwant Sinha, the unanimous consensus candidate of the Opposition parties, is pitted against NDA presidential pick Droupadi Murmu.

Junior Sinha took to social media and cleared the doubt declaring his loyalty to the party's decision. "My respected father Yashwant Sinha ji has been declared the Opposition's joint candidate for President. I am getting a lot of calls of people and media. At this time, I request all of you not to make it a family issue and don't look at me as a son. I am a BJP worker and MP from Hazaribagh. I am fully aware of my Constitutional duties, as an MP and will fulfill them," he said.

Govt directs stepping up surveillance as Covid-19 cases jump in 10 states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WITH Covid-19 cases in several states, especially Maharashtra and Kerala, reporting a big surge, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Thursday held a high-level review meeting and directed officials to focus on surveillance and genome sequencing, apart from monitoring hospitalisation.

The meeting with health officials and experts came on a day when India reported 13,313 new Covid-19 cases — an 8 per cent jump from Wednesday — and 38 deaths in the last 24 hours. This is the first time since February 25 that daily new cases crossed the 13,000-mark.

Officials said Maharashtra and Kerala account for most of the new infections. Maharashtra reported 5,218 cases in the past 24 hours, with Mumbai accounting for nearly half of the new infections in the state. Both Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari and CM Uddhav Thackeray have tested positive. The state, which has been witnessing a spike in cases since June 7, had recorded 3,260 cases on June 22. It also saw its highest test positivity rate (TPR) — a vital marker in assessing the spread of an outbreak — on June 22.

Kerala, which too has been reporting a surge in numbers since the first week of this month, reported 4,224 fresh infections on June 21. The last time the state had recorded 4,000-plus fresh cases in a day was in February. On June 22, it reported 3,890 fresh cases. The TPR in the state stood at 16.97 — the highest in the country — on June 22.

Delhi is another state where the uptick in cases is worrying. On Thursday, the capital recorded 1,934 new infections – more than twice the number of cases it reported on June 22 when 928 persons had tested positive.

According to health ministry data, the other states that are showing a spike in cases are Haryana, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, UP, West Bengal, Gujarat and Telangana.

The health minister in his review meeting also instructed officials to continue to focus on surveillance and on whole-genome sequencing to scan for any possible mutation that could be leading to the current surge.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BRICS harps on sovereignty and territorial integrity

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

RESPECTING the sovereignty and territorial integrity of all States, supporting talks between Russia and Ukraine and warning against using Afghan territory to shelter or train terrorists were some of the highlights of the 14th BRICS Summit Declaration issued on Thursday.

The two-day Summit, being hosted by China, saw Russian President Vladimir Putin and China's Xi Jinping criticising the West for imposing unilateral sanctions on Moscow, which in turn impacted the world economy at large.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said mutual cooperation can make a useful contribution to the global post-Covid recovery. Meanwhile, in the backdrop of several Western brands shutting their outlets in Russia, Putin said Russia is in talks with India to set up stores all over the country.

BRICS comprises five of the world's largest developing countries — Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa. This year's summit is being held amid border tensions between India and China continuing unresolved and Russia being isolated globally over its full-scale invasion of Ukraine.

SINGHVI, SELJA FIND PLACE IN CONG WORKING COMMITTEE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Congress leadership on Thursday inducted senior leaders Kumari Selja from Haryana and Rajya Sabha MP Abhishek Manu Singhvi into Congress Working Committee (CWC), the party's top executive panel.

Their appointments were announced by AICC general secretary (Organisation) K C Venugopal. Some leaders had earlier suggested that Shelja could be accommodated in the organisation when she had missed out on a Rajya Sabha seat from Haryana in the recently held elections for the Upper House. She headed the party's state unit till April.

A M Singhvi

Kumari Selja

Her removal created a buzz in Haryana as Udai Bhan, a four-time MLA, was given the charge of the party in her place. Bhan is considered close to former chief minister and veteran Congress leader Bhupinder Singh Hooda. Party leaders seeing Selja's elevation as a balancing act in the state that will go to polls in 2024.

The entry of Singhvi, a noted lawyer, into the CWC has assumed significance after the exit of another legal luminary Kapil Sibal, who successfully contested Rajya Sabha poll as an independent candidate with the support of the Samajwadi Party.

Singhvi, a former additional solicitor general, was elected to the Rajya Sabha from West Bengal in 2018. The third term MP is also a national spokesperson of the Congress.

Former Rajya Sabha member T Subbarami Reddy has been made a permanent invitee to the CWC while former president of Uttar Pradesh Congress Committee chief Ajay Kumar Lallu has been appointed as a special invitee.Lallu has also been omitted from the list of Congress nominees for the Rajya Sabha polls in UP.

Sonia had recently removed Haryana Congress leader Kuldeep Bishnoi as a special invitee to the CWC after the RS poll debacle in Haryana as Bishnoi had cross-voted.

Coal India ventures into power generation

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

IN a first, the Chhattisgarh-based South Eastern Coalfield Limited (SECL), an undertaking of the state-owned Coal India Limited (CIL), has decided to venture into power production.

SECL has signed an MoU with the Madhya Pradesh Power Generation Company Limited (MPPGCL) for setting up a 660-MW unit. The project will be expedited by setting up a joint venture between SECL and the MPPGCL.

The coal-fired plant of the state-run MPPGCL will have an installed capacity of 660-MW, that will come near the existing Amarkantak Thermal Power Station at Chachai in Anuppur district of MP.

The plant will be built with modern supercritical state-of-the-art technology. Air-cooled condenser technology will be used in the power unit, which will save water for power generation, officials said.

"The project will entail an investment of ₹4,665 crore in which the share of the SECL would be around 70%. The operational role would be carried out by the MPPGCL while the ownership will be with the SECL. The power production is likely to start in a couple of years," officials said.

SECL is already supplying coal to the Amarkantak power station, besides the adjoining locations of Shahdol and Umaria in MP.

The MoU was signed by Bhanjit Singh, Managing Director of MPPGCL, and Arupdutt Chaudhary, GM, SECL.

The decision behind the CIL's initiative is a part of an ambitious diversification plan taken by the world's largest coal producing company to set out beyond mining operations. In pursuit of the new endeavour, the CIL has begun venturing into clean, solar energy, thermal power projects among other innovative projects.

In April, as the nation braced for a challenge to ease the coal shortage that affected power production, the daily production and supply by SECL touched 4.50 lakh tonne — an increase by 1.25 lakh tonne.

Hitting at enemy troops' morale

Lt Gen Vinod Bhatia, a former Parachute Regiment officer himself, said the Special Forces are highly specialised troop who keep the enemy troops pinned down, hitting hard at their morale. Another officer said the Commando training never stops.

Commandos in three Services to be from permanent cadre, not Agniveers

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE specialized units of the Indian armed forces will have to wait at least for four years to get their elite commandos. The super specialization can extend only to those who will be joining as permanent cadres of the three wings, the Army, Air Force and the Navy.

Sources said the probation period for the advanced training is a specialised course that requires time. "The policy decision on the induction of Marine Commandos (Marcos) is a work in progress. Only those completing the four-year tenure as the Agniveers and joining the Navy back at the next level as a part of the 25% lot will be given the specialised training," said a Navy source.

The probation period alone for the Marcos is of nine months, said the officers. With time, these commandos train further for specialised streams.

The commandos in the Army are now the Parachute Commandos, Marcos in the Navy and Garud in the Air Force. To become part of the elite para commando in the Army, one needs to first cross the rigorous probation period of 90 days. "Post successful completion of the probation, a soldier is further trained in specialised streams that will depend on the assigned role of the soldier in the unit," said an officer. The probation period in the case of Garud commandos of the IAF also includes rigorous and long training.

"The Special Forces work behind enemy lines in small numbers to address high value targets which are critical to success of theatre operations," said Lt Gen Vinod Bhatia.

MAHA REBELLION

Fate of Aghadi govt will be decided in assembly: Pawar

Says situation will change once rebel MLAs return to Mumbai

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

BREAKING his silence over the ongoing rebellion in alliance partner Shiv Sena, NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Thursday said the fate of the Maha Vikas Aghadi government in Maharashtra will be decided on the floor of the legislative assembly.

Taking an assertive stand, Pawar said the situation might change once the rebels return to the Maharashtra capital. "BJP may be with them there (in Guwahati), but in Vidhan Sabha, BJP leaders will not be there to guide them. Once they come back here, the situation will be different," Pawar claimed, adding that whether the MVA government has majority or not could be decided only on the floor of the assembly.

Pawar said the rebel MLAs will have to return to Mumbai. "After hearing their stories when they come back, we will come to know the reality because most of them were forcefully taken away. We have heard how two MLAs came back from Surat and Guwahati. It is also true that some MLAs with Shinde are under the scanner of Central agencies. But that may not be the only reason for this rebellion," the politician said.

> BJP may be with them there (in Guwahati), but in Vidhan Sabha, BJP leaders will not be there to guide them. Once they come back here, the situation will be different — Sharad Pawar, NCP leader

Pawar had earlier brushed aside the rebellion led by Eknath Shinde as "internal matter" of the Sena.

The seasoned politician said Shinde's statements clearly indicated that one national party was behind the rebellion. "When the rebel Sena MLAs went to Surat, Gujarat BJP president CR Patil provided them logistical support. When they reached Guwahati, some BJP leaders were with Shinde and his group. So, it is clear that the BJP is behind it," he said.

Pawar is the architect of Maha Vikas Aghadi and is once again at the centre stage of efforts to save the government.

Sena urges Speaker to disqualify 12 rebels

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

AFTER failing to bring back the disgruntled MLAs to the state, Shiv Sena president Uddhav Thackeray swooped into action and requested the Speaker to disqualify 12 rebel MLAs who "defied the party whip".

Shiv Sena Lok Sabha MP Vinayak Raut said legislative party leader Ajay Chaudhari met Deputy Speaker Narahari Zirwal and submitted a letter seeking disqualification of 12 rebel MLAs including Eknath Shinde, Bharat Gogawale, Tanaji Sawant, Yamini Jadhav and Prakash Surve. He said the disqualification process has been started following the legal procedure. "We initially asked to disqualify 12 rebel MLAs. These MLAs did not attend the party meeting despite two notices. Therefore, we sought their disqualification. We may seek disqualification of other MLAs as well," Raut said.

Earlier in day, party's Rajya Sabha member Sanjay Raut said if the rebel Sena MLAs did not return, they would face legal action by the party.

The rebels had written to Thackeray stating that they have no complaints against him but the people who were close to him did not allowed them to meet him. They said the Varsha bungalow, official residence of the chief minister, never opened for them. They also alleged that they didn't receive enough funds for their constituencies.

BJP trying to topple Maha govt : Mamata

KOLKATA: West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee on Thursday accused the BJP of trying to topple the Maha Vikas Aghadi government in Maharashtra and wondered why the rebel MLAs were being sent to flood-hit Assam. Shortly after Trinamool supporters demonstrated in front of the hotel in Guwahati, where the rebel Sena MLAs are staying, Mamata said: "Why are you sending the Maharashtra MLAs to Assam? Send them to Bengal. We will extend good hospitality to them." She alleged democracy was being bulldozed by the BJP. "I want justice for CM Uddhav Thackeray," she said. ENS

Plot scripted in Delhi, enacted in Surat & Guwahati

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GIVEN the sequence of events, it would appear the flight of pro-Eknath Shinde MLAs in Maharashtra to Gujarat was per a BJP script written in Delhi to be enacted in the party's stronghold Surat and then in Guwahati.

Gujarat party chief CR Patil is from Surat, and so is the state's Home Minister Harsh Sanghvi. Assam BJP CM Himanta Biswa Sarma has emerged as the significant link in the episode.

"In the course of events in Maharashtra, Gujarat BJP chief CR Patil or any other leader had no role to play. Patil had the responsibility to look after the outbound Shiv Sena MLAs in Gujarat. However, he could not do the job assigned by Delhi, so the entire responsibility fell on Assam CM Sarma," said a leader who requested not to be named.

"Had CR (Patil) managed the whole operation satisfactorily, why would the Shiv Sena MLAs be moved from Surat to Guwahati? Patil was a manager who received instructions from Delhi," said the leader quoted above.

Surat's selection was obvious. However, "number-two BJP leader in Delhi did not like the Sena leaders meeting the rebel MLAs in Surat," said the leader. "Secondly, this BJP leader did not want his second attempt to topple the Maharashtra government to fail. So overnight, he excluded CR Patil and handed the responsibility to Modi's confidant Sarma," said the leader.

Another senior leader, on condition of anonymity, said the whole episode was being programmed from Delhi. He said the planning for the current drama took place when a top leader in Delhi came to Gujarat some time ago to meet a "big Marathi leader" at the former's home. "A long closed-door meeting followed," this leader said. "No one knew about the Maharashtra leader's visit".

The senior Gujarat BJP leader briefed the top Delhi leaders about his meeting. "They worked out an action plan. The big Marathi leader met a top BJP leader in Delhi and everything was settled between the two," said the senior leader quoted above.

"No doubt, BJP has a lot of faith in Sarma, that's why the case of Jignesh Mevani from Gujarat was lodged from Assam. The defamation case against the Delhi AAP was lodged from Assam. All this indicates that the real game is being played in Delhi," said political analyst Dilip Patel.

Will Naqvi get L-G post of J&K ahead of assembly poll?

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH BJP denying Rajya Sabha ticket to its Muslim face and Union minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi, speculations are rife that he may be posted as the Lt Governor of Muslim-majority Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory.

There is a growing buzz in J&K that Naqvi, who is the prominent Muslim face of the saffron party, may take over as the constitutional head of J&K after the conclusion of Amarnath Yatra in August.

Naqvi's RS term is expiring and the party has neither given him RS ticket nor shown any inclination to field him from any of the vacant LS seats.

Naqvi, who is currently the Union Minister of Minority Affairs, has been familiar with Kashmir. He had campaigned for party candidates in the 2014 assembly and 2020 DDC polls in the Valley.

Naqvi was the first of the five Union ministers to visit J&K after Article 370 was revoked and J&K state was bifurcated into two UTs.

The talk of possible change in guard in J&K has come after the targeted killings by militants in the Valley. It is being said that the Centre is unhappy with the L-G administration over the targeted killings.

Political observers say that with the first-ever assembly elections in J&K Union Territory likely to be held soon, the Modi government may go for change of guard in the UT and Naqvi's appointment may be seen as an effort by the BJP to reach out to the Muslim population.

However, a BJP leader said L-G's is a constitutional post and it does not matter whether the person is a Hindu or Muslim. "The person who comes out with good policies will have a positive impact on the people," he said.

However, some political observers say that BJP is too "secretive" when it comes to nominating persons for top posts.

However, the figure of voting percentage may improve when the updated figure is released on Friday. The low turnout indicated a neck-and-neck fight on both seats. While the poll panel claimed that polling progressed peacefully without any "serious complaint", Arvind Kumar Singh, secretary of Samajwadi Party, shot off a letter to the EC alleging that his party's booth agents had been removed from all the polling centres in Azamgarh. Singh demanded the panel to ensure free and fair elections. Both seats are SP strongholds.

Plus-2 score not enough for admission

The admission committee of the science faculty at Jadavpur University has accepted the proposals of four departments—physics, chemistry, mathematics and geography—to screen students for UG courses through admission tests. The move is to ensure that aspirants are not admitted on the strength of inflated Plus-2 marks alone. An committee member said it has been resolved that four of the five departments would admit candidates by awarding equal weightage to tests and Plus-2 marks. The geological sciences department wants to continue with admissions based on Plus-2 board marks.

Will boycott youths filling forms: Khaps

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A section of khap panchayats belonging to Haryana has issued a diktat warning of a social boycott of youth filling Agnipath forms. These khaps have also asked the Centre to roll back all cases registered against the anti-Agnipath protestors across the country.

On the lines of the farmer stir, the khaps warn of a boycott of the ruling BJP-JJP at public events in the state.

The khaps had called a panchayat meeting on Wednesday at Sampla town of Rohtak district in which representatives of various khaps from Haryana, UP, Rajasthan, Punjab, Uttrakhand, Delhi and Himachal Pradesh took part. Farmers union leaders mingled with the khaps that claim to represent the Jakhars, Dhaiyas, Phogats, Jakhu, Sawgwan, and Punia communities, mostly belonging to the Jats who usually send in their men to join the Indian Army in large numbers.

An indefinite sit-in has begun near the Chhotu Ram statue in Sampla in support of the youth protesting against Agnipath.

J&K highway remains closed for third day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

THE Jammu-Srinagar national highway remained closed for the third consecutive day on Thursday due to multiple landslides triggered by incessant rains. The officials used explosives to blast boulders that were hampering the ongoing restoration work on the 270-km-long strategic national highway.

With improvement in weather, the restoration work at over half-a-dozen places in Udhampur and Ramban districts was speeded up in the morning as over 700 Kashmir-bound stranded vehicles, mostly trucks carrying essential commodities, were cleared, the officials said.

They said efforts are on to clear the remaining 1,300 vehicles that are stranded on the highway — the only all-weather road linking Kashmir with rest of the country.

Explosives were used to blast boulders at Dewal bridge near Samroli in Udhampur district, where a huge landslide had blocked a long stretch of the road. Udhampur Deputy Commissioner Krittika Jyotsna visited the landslide-hit area to review the situation, the officials said, adding the restoration work might stretch till Friday afternoon given the massive debris.

The highway was blocked on Tuesday evening due to landslides, mudslides and shooting stones at 33 places in Ramban and Udhampur districts. A 150-feet-long road stretch and an under-construction bridge on the highway were also washed away.

Heavy rain slows operation to save Afghans trapped beneath debris

KABUL

VILLAGERS rushed to bury the dead on Thursday and dug by hand through the rubble of their homes in search of survivors of a powerful earthquake in eastern Afghanistan that state media reported killed more than 1,000 people.

Desperate rescuers battled against the clock and heavy rain to reach the survivours.

"Getting information from the ground is very difficult because of bad networks," Mohammad Amin Huzaifa, head of information for badly hit Paktika province, said on Thursday. "The area has been affected by floods because of heavy rains last night... it is also difficult to access the affected sites."

Entire villages have been levelled in many areas of some of the worst affected districts, where survivors said they were struggling to find equipment to bury their dead.

The rubble outline of collapsed walls and roofs is all that remains of the village where Zaitullah Ghurziwal lives.

Survivors in Ghurza wander around in shock, looking for a place of shelter — or to the sky in hope that aid will be delivered by aircraft.

"There are no blankets or tents... there's no shelter. People are lying on open ground," Ghurziwal tells AFP, pointing to the crumbled dwelling where he now holds out with six other families.

"We need food and water. Our entire water distribution system is destroyed. Everything is devastated."

Aid is beginning to trickle into the valley — a military helicopter seen flying overhead dropped food to hard-to-reach places and collected some injured to deliver them to hospital — but an AFP team saw no UN presence on Thursday.

After the horror of the first hours, villagers have already dried their tears — misfortune is well known in this area, one of the poorest in a country ravaged by humanitarian crises, neglect and decades of war.

On Wednesday the villagers buried about 60 people, and 30 more followed on Thursday.

"We didn't even have a shovel to dig with, no equipment, so we used a tractor," says Ghurziwal. In the middle of a courtyard, his octogenarian mother, slightly injured, is lying on a bed, sheltered from the sun by a sheet. The previous night children took refuge from the heavy rain in a wheel-less car. Another elderly woman, wearing a floral red velvet dress and a long green shawl, lost four relatives. "I buried them today," she says, giving her name as Zulfana. Now, there is nothing to be done but wait for aid and rescuers to arrive. AFP

SL truck driver dies waiting in queue for five days to buy fuel

COLOMBO

A 63-YEAR-OLD truck driver has died in Sri Lanka after standing for five days in a queue to get fuel at a filling station in the country's Western Province.

The 10th death reported due to prolonged waiting for fuel procurement in the debt-ridden island nation grappling with the worst economic crisis since its independence, according to a media report on Thursday.

The man was found dead inside his vehicle after waiting in the queue at the filling station in Anguruwatota, police said.

The death toll in queues now stands at 10 and all the victims have been men aged between 43 and 84 years. Majority of the deaths reported in queues have been due to cardiac arrests, the Daily Mirror newspaper reported.

A week ago, a 53-year-old man died while waiting in a queue for several hours at a fuel station in Panadura in Colombo. The man was reported to have died of a heart attack while waiting in the queue in his three-wheeler.

Sri Lanka, currently, is home to around 22 million. The nation is presently facing its worst economic crisis in more than 70 years.

Sri Lanka's economy is experiencing extreme fuel shortages, soaring food prices and a lack of medicines.

The current shortages were made worse by the government's inability to get the state-owned Bank of Ceylon to open Letters of Credit for fuel imports.

As a measure to tackle the fuel shortages and the resultant transport difficulties the state sector employees are allowed to treat Fridays as holidays starting from June 17, the public administration ministry said in a circular.

This will be in force for the next three months. PTI

India ready to help Sri Lanka recover its economy

COLOMBO

INDIA on Thursday assured Sri Lanka that it stands ready to help the island nation's quick economic recovery through promoting investments, connectivity and strengthening economic linkage as a four-member delegation led by Foreign Secretary Vinay Kwatra met the country's top leadership, including President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, here.

During the call on President Rajapaksa, the Indian side thanked him for his commitment to the development of India-Sri Lanka bilateral relations.

"Both sides had a productive exchange of views on the current economic situation in Sri Lanka as well as India's ongoing support," the High Commission of India said in a press release.

The delegation reviewed the already provided assistance in terms of fuel, medicine, fertiliser and other essentials and said the Indian government is committed to support Sri Lanka, the report said.

The delegation later met with Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe and the two sides had an in-depth discussion on the Sri Lankan economy and efforts undertaken by the Government of Sri Lanka towards achieving economic recovery.

The country, had announced in April that it is suspending $7 billion foreign debt repayment due for this year out of about $25 billion due through 2026. PTI

Govt may mop up ₹70K-1L cr from 5G auction

People familiar with the matter said the govt doesn't expect spectrum worth ₹4 lakh cr will be sold in the auction

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE government is expecting to mop up nearly ₹70,000 crore to ₹1 lakh crore from the upcoming 5G auction to be held on July 26.

According to the people familiar with the development, the government doesn't expect all the spectrum, worth ₹4 lakh crore, will be sold in the auction.

"We are going to put up the entire spectrum on auction, but it doesn't mean all will be taken," said an official. Last week, the cabinet approved a proposal of the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) to conduct a 5G spectrum auction, in which spectrum will be assigned to the successful bidders for providing services to public and enterprises. According to the DoT, the auction will be held for spectrum in various Low (600 MHz, 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz), Mid (3300 MHz) and High (26 GHz) frequency bands. The airwaves, at the reserve prices recommended by the telecom regulator are valued at nearly ₹4 lakh crore.

Even analysts are of the view that telecom service providers - Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea - are expected to buy spectrum worth

Telcos may give premium spectrum a miss

IIFL said telcos may give the premium 700 MHz band spectrum a miss as they await for reserve-price cuts. It said if all telcos avail of the option of equal annual installments over 20 years, the government would receive ₹6,200 proceeds in current financial year

₹71,000 crore in the upcoming auction. According to the IIFL Securities, these telecom operators are going to leave a vast majority of the radio waves going under the hammer unsold. "While supply is abundant, the government has not cut TRAI's proposed reserve prices despite telcos' assertion that these were still high. We see telcos bidding only for 4 of the 10 bands and spectrum should be sold at base price. We estimate spectrum outlay of ₹37,500 crore, ₹25,000 crore and ₹8,500 crore for Jio, Bharti and Vi," said IIFL.

IIFL expects no bidding in the 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz and 2500 MHz bands. Bids for 3.6 GHz are somewhat tricky to predict. The report mentioned that telcos could bid for small quantities in the 3.6 GHz and 28 GHz band, the prime radio waves for 5G technology. It said telcos may give the premium 700 MHz band spectrum a miss as they await for further reserve-price cuts. It said if all telcos avail of the option of equal annual installments over 20 years, the government would receive ₹6,200 proceeds in the current financial year.

Never explored exiting India - not even for a min: Uber

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RIDE hailing firm Uber has denied a media report that said it had explored options to exit India by selling its local unit.

Ruchica Tomar, Uber spokesperson, said Bloomberg's reporting is categorically false and that they have never explored exiting India—not even for a minute.

"India is as important to Uber today as it was when we launched nine years ago. We are serving riders and drivers across more than 100 cities, hiring Indian talent aggressively, and planning for the next decade and beyond," said Tomar.

A report citing sources said that Uber Technologies Inc. explored options for its Indian ride-hailing business, including a sale, but suspended discussions after tech startup valuations cratered. Dara Khosrowshahi, Uber CEO, also rejected the report in a tweet: "Amazing that they ran this story – there is zero truth to this story – wasn't explored, wasn't considered, discussions didn't happen, at any level – and we told Bloomberg as such."

In April this year, the CEO had said that they continue to expand the product offerings for the Indian consumer and that they are in for a long game in India. The report said Uber initiated weighing alternatives and reached out to several interested parties after recognising it had limited potential for profitable expansion in the country. Uber and its fierce competitor in India-Bengaluru-based Ola - has been struggling to make profit in the highly price-sensitive market. Other than this, Ola and Uber continue to face backlash from driver partners for exploiting them and charging very high commission. In recent times it has also faced criticism from consumer forums for being an unfriendly platform. Uber had already sold its food delivery business in India to Zomato in 2020 in return for a stake in the local startup.

Certain confusions still persist regarding GST on cryptocurrencies

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE Income Tax Department's new guidlines on TDS (tax deducted at source) has added to the confusion regarding GST. Earlier, it said that TDS has to be deducted after excluding GST.

Archit Gupta, founder and CEO of tax & investing platform Clear (formerly ClearTax), said that interestingly, the guidelines have mentioned about GST. The circular clarified that the tax required to be withheld under section 194S of the Act should be on the net consideration after excluding GST/ charges levied by the deductor for rendering service.

"Even though as of today, GST is not applicable, and it's going to come up in the council meeting, they have touched upon this interesting FAQ," Gupta said. Sunil Badala, partner and head, financial services, tax, KPMG India said the guidelines provide clarity on many aspects, certain doubts still persist. "As regards the clarification that TDS needs to be done on net consideration (excluding GST and charges), there appears to be an error as the guidelines mentions GST / charges 'levied by the deductor' shall be excluded – the fact is GST /charges are 'levied by the exchange/brokers," he said.

One key thing is that the 1% TDS is applicable when a payment is being made to any resident, and that the exchange is required to furnish a quarterly statement for VDA transactions. One of the important clarifications that has come through these guidelines is TDS is applicable when you are doing P2P (peer-to-peer) transactions, then the buyer has to ensure that tax is deducted. "1% TDS is expected to remain this fiscal. It is important that the government look at revising the guidelines to encourage entrepreneurship in the Web 3.0 sphere," said Khaleelulla Baig, co-founder and CEO of Koinbasket.

Vodafone Idea defers payments of ₹8,837 crore AGR dues by 4 years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM operator Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL) on Thursday decided to defer payment of additional gross revenue (AGR) of ₹8,837 crore dues by four years.

Following this, the telco will have to pay the amount in six equal installments starting March 31, 2026.

"The company has received a further communication dated June 15, 2022 (''DoT Letter''), wherein the DoT has offered a moratorium of four years (on an NPV or net present value protected basis) for all AGR related dues up to financial year 2018-19," said VIL in an exchange filing.

Vodafone Idea further said the DoT letter also provides the company an option for equity conversion of interest dues upfront for these AGR-related dues, for which a period of 90 days has been provided. Thus, the company at its board meeting on June 22, 2022, has approved the exercise of the option of deferment of the AGR related dues by a period of four years with immediate effect.

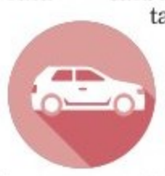
"The amount of the AGR related dues as stated in the said DoT Letter is₹8,837 crore, which is subject to revision on account of disposal of various representations, CAG/special audit/and any other outcome of litigation and the final amount to be paid in six (6) equal annual instalments post moratorium period starting from March 31, 2026," said the company. According to official data, telecom operators owe over ₹1.65 lakh crore to the government in AGR up to FY19. The AGR liability on Vodafone Idea is ₹59,236.63 crore.

Tata Motors and government to probe Nexon EV fire incident

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER a slew of fire incidents in electric two-wheelers that rocked the nation and reduced its reliability among consumers, it is now an electric passenger vehicle that has caught fire and the model is none other than India's best selling battery run four-wheeler - the Tata Nexon EV.

The electric car caught fire in Vasai – a suburb of Mumbai – on June 22. After pictures and videos of the vehicle bursting into flames were shared widely on the internet, Tata Motors said that it is conducting a detailed investigation in the matter. "An investigation is being conducted to ascertain the facts of the isolated thermal incident that is doing the rounds on social media. We will share a response after our complete investigation. We remain committed to the safety of our vehicles and their users," said Tata Motors in a statement on Thursday. It added that this is the first incident after over 30,000 EVs have covered over 100 million km across the country in 4 years. Not only the automaker, even the government has ordered a probe into the matter to know about the reasons that caused fire. Sources say the Centre for Fire Explosive and Environment Safety (CFEES), Indian Institute of Science (IISc) and Naval Science & Technological Laboratory (NSTL), Visakhapatnam have been asked to probe the matter.



Gautam Adani, family commit ₹60,000 crore for social causes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN what may make Asia's richest billionaire Gautam Adani a top philanthropist, the Adani family has committed a donation of ₹60,000 crore to a range of social causes on the occasion of centenary birth anniversary of Gautam Adani's father Shantilal Adani, and Gautam Adani's own 60th birthday

Without disclosing the time period by when this amount will be spent, the donation amount, according to Adani Group, will be spent on charitable activities related to healthcare, education, and skill development.

The ₹60,000 crore is also much more than what the Group generally spends on its CSR activities. According to information available on its website, Adani Group invests nearly 2% of its total profit in various CSR initiatives through Adani Foundation.

In FY22, the Group's seven listed entity had reported a combined profit of nearly ₹13,000 crore on a revenue of ₹1.85 lakh crore. The commitment comes even as the combined gross debt of the Group companies reached a new high of ₹2.22 lakh crore at the end of March this year, up 42% from ₹1.57 lakh crore a year ago, according to data from Capitaline. Currently, Adani's fortune is at $91.7 billion, according to Bloomberg's billionaire Index.

CONSUMERS CUT BUDGET DUE TO INFLATION

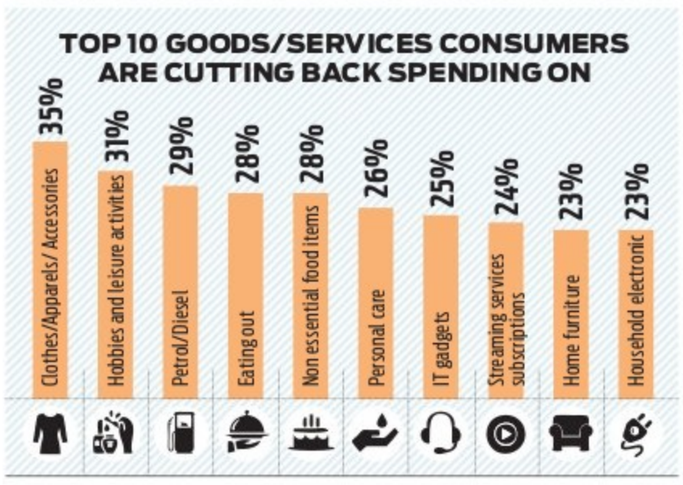
SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

AS cost of living goes up due to record-high inflation, consumers are cutting back on several household expenses.

According to data compiled by market research firm YouGov, 46% of urban Indians said their cost of living has gone up substantially while for three in 10 (31%), it has gone up a little in the past 12 months.

"With inflation at its highest level in the past eight years, petrol prices spiralling and wholesale price inflation at a 30-year high, cost of living in India has gone up in recent past," the market research firm said.

Data shows residents in tier-1 cities are likely to feel greater impact, with half of them claiming their cost of living has gone up substantially, as compared to 44% and 43% residents in tier-2 and tier-3 cities, respectively, who said the same about their situation.



The impact has led people to make cutbacks to their household spending in many areas since December 2021, said the survey. "Clothing tops the list with over a third (35%) saying they have cut spending on clothes, apparels and accessories. As many as (31%) have reduced their spending on hobbies or leisure activities like going to the cinema."

With the recent increase in fuel prices, nearly 29% claim to have cut their expenses on petrol/diesel, while 28% have decreased their spending on eating out and 15% have done so for F&B deliveries. The survey notes that this behaviour is more noticeable in tier-1 cities. Over a fifth have also limited their spending on services like grooming & wellness and gyms (23% and 19%, respectively). At the same time, nearly a quarter have cut down expenses on streaming services, according to the survey, but this is notably higher in tier-1 cities where 32% have claimed to do so in the last 6 months.

Comparatively, lesser cutbacks have been made on staple food items (12%), broadband subscriptions (15%) and household essentials (18%), as these are more of necessities.

SEPTEMBER 15 DEADLINE FOR AIFF

FIFA-AFC delegate set date for Indian football body to identify new office-bearers, state units commit to roadmap

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

FINALLY, there seems to be some kind of a date for election process to end. It has emerged that FIFA-Asian Football Confederation (AFC) delegate wants the All India Football Federation (AIFF) and its stakeholders to end the election process by September 15.

It is understood that the state associations have agreed to commit to that deadline after meetings on Thursday. Though the date is not officially announced, members who attended the meeting said that the delegation has given September 15 as the deadline for elections. All the state units, considered the general body, met and decided to take one step at a time. First thing is to get the constitution in order and adjust or modify a few sticky points on the line of FIFA and AFC statutes.

The draft constitution prepared by the court-appointed three-member Committee of Administrators (CoA) would be presented to the court on July 15 before the matter is listed for hearing on July 21.

The members of the state units felt the court process would be over by July 31. According to members who attended the meeting, if the matter concludes by July 31, then within five days the state units are going to call for a Special General Meeting to finalise the dates for the elections.

What seems tricky is the first deadline of July 31. If the constitution is not passed by this date, then the entire process would get delayed. First, they need to call for an SGM and then decide on the other dates. The electoral college would be drafted as per the new constitution. According to its constitution, notice should be issued 21 days before the AGM and elections can be held later. As of now, it seems the September 15 deadline would be touch and go.

It is understood that the state units also ratified the appointment of the general secretary in the absence of the court-suspended executive council. Apparently, it was done in accordance with FIFA and AFC statutes.

According to an AIFF (CoA) statement, a joint FIFA/AFC mission has concluded a three-day visit to India where it held constructive discussions with local stakeholders regarding the situation in the AIFF.

The statement also said that "the meetings concluded that the next steps should be the ratification of the AIFF statutes in line with the FIFA-AFC principles of good governance and the holding of an Electoral Congress to choose the next AIFF leadership." This, according to AIFF, would be based on a timeline agreed by AIFF stakeholders.

The mission was led by the AFC General Secretary, Datuk Seri Windsor John, and included AFC Deputy General Secretary, Vahid Kardany, FIFA Chief Member Associations Officer, Kenny Jean-Marie, and FIFA Director of Strategic Projects and Member Association Governance, Nodar Akhalkatsi.

The delegate also met the CoA, Praful Patel, the FIFA council member, sports minister Anurag Thakur, the sports development committee and other stakeholders.

BFI interested to host next year's worlds

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

JUST a few days ago, the International Boxing Association (IBA) opened the bidding process for World Boxing Tour (WBT) events for 2023-24. The world body is looking to conduct six WBT events across different continents during the said period. It is learnt the Boxing Federation of India (BFI) is also hopeful of hosting a key event next year. Though still at a nascent stage, there are murmurs that the federation is interested in conducting the Women's World Championships next year. The event will also be a qualifying event. This daily understands that the BFI has already hinted its interest to the IBA. However, at the moment, nothing is certain and it's impossible to tell the future course of action with IBA still fighting to save the sport.

Returning Jemimah helps India win

GOMESH S @Chennai

INDIA were down to 58/3 at the halfway mark in the first T20I against Sri Lanka in Dambulla on Thursday. Jemimah Rodrigues had just walked into bat at No 5, two spots lower than where she used to bat, with Harmanpreet Kaur at the other end. In the very next ball, she watched her skipper get trapped on the pads by Inoka Ranaweera.

If making a comeback into the Indian team after the World Cup snub and playing a very different role wasn't enough pressure, her team was reeling at 58/4.

Two balls after Harmanpreet's dismissal, the left-arm spinner tossed one up, turning it away from Jemimah. But the 21-year-old was ready. She rocked on her backfoot, waited till the last moment to dab it in the gap between slip and gully, for her first boundary. As she marked her bat at the non-striker's end as a formality, a fist pump followed. Not to anyone else, but to herself. And that settled her nerves, giving the confidence she needed.

Over the next five overs, Jemimah got to face just eight balls and watched Richa Ghosh get out at the other end. After 15.3 overs, India were down to 90/5.

Brief scores: India 138/6 in 20 ovs (Jemimah Rodrigues 36 n.o, Shafali Verma 31, Inoka Ranaweera 3/3) bt Sri Lanka 104/5 in 20 ovs (Kavisha Dilhari 47 n.o, Radha Yadav 2/22).

MP make strong start after Sarfaraz century

PTI @Bengaluru

SARFARAZ Khan completed his transformation from Mumbai cricket's resident 'enfant terrible' to 'Man Friday' with a superb hundred that kept his side ahead against Madhya Pradesh in the Ranji Trophy final Thursday. Courtesy Sarfaraz's fourth hundred of the season ' 134 off 243 balls — the 41-time champions managed a fighting 374 in their first innings after beginning the day at 248 for five.

RANJI TROPHY

Brief scores: Mumbai 374 in 127.4 ovs (Sarfaraz 134, Yashasvi 78; Gaurav 4/106, Anubhav 3/81) vs Madhya Pradesh 123/1 in 41 ovs (Yash 44 n.o, Shubham 41 n.o).

But Madhya Pradesh won't be too unhappy as they finished the second day at 123 for one with Yash Dubey (44 batting) and Shubham Sharma (41 batting) adding 76 runs for the unbroken second wicket. The day belonged to none other than Sarfaraz, who has now scored an astounding 937 runs in Ranji Trophy in just six games and could make it 1000 for the season if Mumbai bat again in this match. His innings had 13 boundaries and two huge sixes — one over square leg off left-arm spinner Kumar Kartikeya and one down the ground off off-spinner Saransh Jain.

But what stood out was how he managed the innings after Shams Mulani was trapped leg before by Gourav Yadav (4/106) in the opening over of the second day. His batting with the tail showed his new-found maturity, which is proving to be a boon for Mumbai cricket. He chose loose deliveries for boundary, forcing MP captain Aditya Shrivastava to open the field. The manner in which Sarfaraz has turned a corner since the 2019-20 season (928 runs back then) is phenomenal as he had disciplinary issues early in his career, which also forced him to leave Mumbai for a season.
